

Probing Nonresponse Bias in Surveys - Measures and Consequences

Peter V. Miller
U.S. Census Bureau

Session Overview

- This session offers a look at methods and findings from nonresponse bias studies involving federal surveys.
- Two papers provide progress reports from an FCSM working group on nonresponse bias
- A third paper presents findings from a large scale simulation of the performance of alternative nonresponse bias indicators
- Discussion of the three papers
- A mixture of research and policy recommendations.